Gift Aid can boost Church finances: If you pay UK income or capital gains tax please help the Church by using the blue Gift Aid envelopes for your Open Plate donations. This will add approximately 25% to any donations you make, as the Church can reclaim the basic rate of tax from your donations. If you are or intend to donate via the Pledge Giving Scheme, you can complete a one-off Gift Aid declaration. Please ask for a pen if you need one.

To make a Gift Aid declaration, you will need to pay UK Income Tax and/or Capital Gains Tax in any tax year greater than the amount of Gift Aid claimed on all your Gift Aid donations in that year, or you will be responsible for any difference. Income tax includes tax credits on UK dividend income. Boosting the Church income in this way will be a very welcome additional contribution to finances.

For our visitors and any residents eligible to Gift Aid:

PLEASE, if you are putting your donation in a Gift Aid envelope, would you make sure that the details on the front of the envelope are completed; if this is not done we are unable to claim the tax refund.

GENERAL NOTICES

Canon Anthony – Leave: Canon Anthony will be on leave from Monday 28th January until Friday 1st March. We wish him a restful and refreshing period of leave prior to him taking up his post as Interim Associate Priest at the beginning of March.

Electoral Roll: I hope that a good many of you will surprise me today, and finally return your Electoral Roll renewal forms by today's deadline. As of the end of last week, we had only received 70 returns and this is well below where we estimate we should be. If you have forgotten or overlooked this very important action, please act swiftly to get your renewal application back to your warden or directly to Gordon Redpath, our Electoral Roll Officer. Contact details at the end of the newsheet. This is important administration, on your part, and helps to make the parish run smoothly. Thank you to those who have already submitted a return.

Reverend Andrew.

Visiting Clergy: On Sunday 3rd February, we will welcome to the parish The Reverend Drew Schmotzer, Chaplain of St Martin's church in Sharjah in The United Arab Emirates. He has kindly accepted an invitation to preach at the 0815 Eucharist at Ayia Kyriaki, the 1100 service of Holy Communion at St Stephen's and the 1800 Eucharist at Ayia Kyriaki. In addition, we will welcome back to the parish, on this Sunday, The Reverend Canon Ian Calder who will preside and preach at the 0930 service of Holy Communion at St Luke's. After a week at Synod, he will also be the officiant at Morning Worship at St Stephen's on Sunday 10th February. Canon Ian will be accompanied by his wife, Penny. We are grateful to them both, for their willing assistance at a time when there is only one Priest in the parish. Reverend Andrew.

Diocesan Synod: Our annual Diocesan Synod will meet in Larnaca from Monday 4th February until Friday 8th February. Reverend Andrew will be attending along with your parish representatives: Sarah Sait and Chris Hoskins. Jacquie Hammond will also be attending in a non-representative capacity as the Diocesan Sacristan and Trevor Sait will attend as an observer. Please pray for those who are arranging the Synod – especially the business that will be discussed over the five days and for all who travel from near and far. Reverend Andrew.

Please Note: Due to Synod, next Sunday's WNS will cover two weeks - the weeks commencing 3rd and 10th February, if you have anything to go into either of those editions please would you get it to me by Wednesday (30th January) 10am at the latest. Thank you. Sarah Sait

A Comment by The Reverend Canon Angela Tilby published in The Church Times on Friday 18th January 2019 to mark the week of Prayer for Christian Unity which ended on Friday 25th January.

Ecumenism has lost its way

“May they be one so that the world may believe.” The prayer of Jesus from John 17 suggests that successful evangelism depends on unity among Christ’s followers. Today, it seems years since the Churches really believed in visible unity; the very name “Churches Together” suggests that the once precious goal has been quietly abandoned.

There are many reasons why this has happened. The vision of unity which was promoted in the mid-20th century depended on an already existing Christian culture that now barely exists. The syllabus for religious education in schools brought clergy together from the different denominations. Radio and television provided opportunities for worship and discussion which were carefully organised across local, national, and denominational divides. The result was a canopy of shared understanding based on commonly held translations of scripture, a broadly shared social ethic, and a readiness to witness to the nation as a whole.

It was never perfect. The Roman Catholic Church was not really signed up for it, although there were significant individuals who contributed greatly. Evangelical bodies were wary, suspecting that the whole enterprise was a liberal plot to undermine the true gospel. But imperfect though it was, it carried a genuine hope that visible unity was possible.

What has broken down in more recent decades is that whole canopy of shared understanding. Religious education and religious media now bypass the Churches. Anglican divisions have ended hopes for reunion with the Methodists. English Non-conformity has declined precipitously. Evangelicals and Pentecostals veer away from ecumenism, since their underlying ecclesiology is non-institutional. As they see it, the only unity worth having is that based on agreed doctrine.

Internationally, too, there is stasis. The World Council of Churches, for example, continues to urge ecumenical ideals, but its pronouncements are no longer widely covered by the press.

But the critical problem is not how much the Church has changed, but how much the world has changed. The ecumenical movement grew out of a shared concern for Christian mission, fuelled by a historic series of international missionary conferences at the start of the 20th century. The aim of the Edinburgh Missionary Conference of 1910, “The world for Christ in a generation,” could now sound arrogant, even imperialistic.

There are many reasons why ecumenism has lost its way, but perhaps the basic reason is that the high priestly prayer of Jesus no longer speaks to us as it once did. Reinterpreting the Lord’s will on mission and unity should, perhaps, be the focus for this week of prayer. The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity runs from 18 to 25 January.
